The position posting is for a Teaching Assistantship at McGill University. The role involves assisting in the course "Computers and Society" taught by Derek Ruths. The responsibilities include communication with the instructor and students, maintaining office hours, developing grading scripts, grading assignments and exams, monitoring the discussion board, preparing solution sets, supervising exams, and ensuring confidentiality. The position requires a strong command of course material and proficiency in Python.

Course Title: Computers and Society

Instructor: Derek Ruths

Course Number: COMP 189

Hours of work (per term): 90

Dates of Appointment:
- Starting: January 5, 2022
- Ending: April 16, 2022

Salary:
- Hourly rate: $32.38
- Per term: $2,914.20

Notes:
- This position includes the possibility of an in-person and/or online presence.
- Announcements are considered tentative, pending final determination of course offerings and enrolments.

Please note that given the current circumstances related to the pandemic and the resumption of certain in-person teaching activities, some Teaching Assistant tasks for this course may be performed remotely or in person. The Teaching Assistant may be required to perform tasks suited to a remote/online teaching environment using a virtual learning platform [e.g., Zoom, WebEx] and the McGill myCourses learning management system.

Applications: Must go through Workday at www.mcgill.ca/hr/careers.